COMMISSION OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES

COM(93) 326 final

Brussels, 9 July 1993

Proposal for a

authorizing the automatic renewal or maintenance in force of provisions governing matters covered by the common commercial policy contained in the friendship, trade and navigation treaties and in trade agreements concluded between Member States and third countries

(presented by the Commission)

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM

In accordance with Article 3 of the Council Decision of 16 December 1969 on the progressive standardization of agreements concerning commercial relations between Member States and third countries and on the negotiation of Community agreements,[1] the Commission proposes that the Council authorize the Member States to extend expressly or tacitly trade agreements and treaties covering areas within the ambit of the common commercial policy, as listed in the annex to the enclosed proposal for a Council Decision (extension from February 1993 to September 1994) and combine in a single decision the authorizations which hitherto were accorded in quarterly instalments.

In February 1993, this annual Commission proposal to the Council concerning the Member States' trade agreements and treaties with third countries will replace the system used hitherto, under which trade agreements and treaties were extended by instalments.

The prior consultation required under Article 2 of the above Decision was carried out by written procedure, on completion of which, on 15 February 1993, it was ascertained that the conditions that would allow these agreements and treaties to be extended for a one-year period had been met.

However, it was subsequently found that provisions relating to public procurement in friendship, trade and navigation treaties between certain Member States and the United States could create problems of compatibility with existing common policies.

For this reason, automatic renewal of the treaties in their present form is inappropriate.

In a letter dated 15 July 1992, Mr Andriessen reminded the Member States that in 1986 they had undertaken to take steps to revise the agreements with the EFTA countries, and that the Commission had subsequently proposed, at regular intervals, that these agreements should be extended on a provisional basis owing to the fact that the Member States concerned had announced that the denunciation procedures were in process of completion.

Mr Andriessen said that he would not propose any further extension, which he felt was no longer justified in the light, inter alia, of the creation of the European Economic Area.

At the beginning of this year, certain Member States indicated that they were against denouncing the agreements, as the EEA Treaty had not yet come into force and Switzerland had declined to ratify it.

Consequently, tacitly extending these agreements one last time for a further year seems to be justified.

1 OJ L 326, 29 December 1969, p. 39.

In the same letter Mr Andriessen had pointed out that it was necessary rapidly to adapt or denounce the agreements with the Mediterranean countries and the ACP States for the same reasons.

The Commission believes that, in general, the anachronistic situation, which is rendered ever more complex by the growing number of parallel agreements, with the risk of attendant contradictions, needs to be ironed out.

The Commission would point out moreover that the proposal aimed at authorizing the Member States to extend expressly or tacitly for an additional year the other trade agreements and treaties listed in the annex to the enclosed Council Decision is in no way prejudicial to any position it may adopt when the next proposal for the extension of these trade agreements and treaties falls due.

Proposal for a

of ../../....

authorizing the automatic renewal or maintenance in force of provisions governing matters covered by the common commercial policy contained in the friendship, trade and navigation treaties and in trade agreements concluded between Member States and third countries

THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN COMMUNITIES,

Having regard to the Treaty establishing the European Economic Community, and in particular Article 113 thereof,

Having regard to Council Decision 69/494/EEC of 16 December 1969 on the progressive standardization of agreements concerning commercial relations between Member States and third countries and on the negotiation of Community agreements,[1] and in particular Article 3 thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the Commission,

Whereas the Member States concerned have again requested authorization for the automatic renewal or continuance in force of provisions governing matters covered by the common commercial policy within the meaning of Article 113 of the Treaty and contained in the friendship, trade and navigation treaties and similar agreements with third countries listed in the Annex, in order to avoid interrupting their commercial relations with the third countries concerned as are based on such agreements;

Whereas, however, most of the matters covered by these provisions of national treaties and agreements will in future be governed by Community agreements; whereas, in that case, authorization should be given only in respect of those matters not covered by Community agreements; whereas, in addition, such authorization does not absolve the Member States from the obligation of avoiding and, where appropriate, eliminating any incompatibility between such treaties and agreements and the provisions of Community law;

Whereas the provisions of the treaties and agreements to be automatically renewed or maintained in force must not, furthermore, during the period under consideration, constitute an obstacle to the implementation of the common commercial policy;

Whereas the Member States concerned have stated that the automatic renewal or continuance in force of these treaties and agreements should not be such as to constitute an obstacle to the opening of Community commercial negotiations with the relevant third countries or the transfer of the commercial fields covered by current bilateral agreements to Community agreements;

1 OJ L 326, 29.12.1969, p. 39.

Whereas, at the conclusion of the consultation provided for in Article 2 of Decision 69/494/EEC, it was established, as the aforesaid statements by the Member States confirm, that the provisions of the relevant treaties and bilateral agreements will not, during the period under consideration, constitute an obstacle to the implementation of the common commercial policy;

Whereas, nevertheless, the Member States concerned have stated that they would be willing to adapt and, if necessary, terminate those treaties and agreements should it be found, during the period under consideration, that the automatic renewal or continuance in force of the provisions thereof relating to matters covered by Article 113 of the Treaty hinder the implementation of the common commercial policy;

Whereas in practice the provisions relating to public procurement contained in friendship, trade and navigation treaties between Member States and the United States have given rise to problems of compatibility with common policies; whereas it is not appropriate to propose authorizing automatic renewal or the continuance in force of such treaties in their present form;

Whereas, in 1986 and 1990, the Member States and the Commission identified the clauses which needed to be brought into line with Community legislation, first for the EFTA countries and then for the ACP and Mediterranean countries; whereas they undertook to open negotiations with the countries concerned for that purpose;

Whereas most of the clauses in question in agreements with the EFTA countries have already been eliminated; whereas it is all the more essential to eliminate the rest in view of the establishment of the internal market;

Whereas the adaptation of the agreements with the ACP and Mediterranean countries should also be rapidly completed;

Whereas the treaties and agreements involved contain termination clauses requiring a period of notice of between three and 12 months;

Whereas, for the sake of simplicity, the practice followed thus far of renewing the trade agreements and treaties at quarterly intervals should be replaced by an annual decision covering all of the agreements and treaties; whereas, therefore, Decisions 92/234/EEC,[1] 92/239/EEC,[2] 92/294/EEC[3] and 92/487/EEC,[4] of 1992, which lay down varying expiry dates, should be repealed;

Whereas, therefore, there is no reason for not authorizing the automatic renewal or continuance in force, until 30 September 1994, of the provisions in question,

HAS ADOPTED THIS DECISION:

Article 1
